ABOUT HANNAH

<http://www.hannahbiggsdressage.co.uk>

Hannah is one of Britain's elite dressage riders. She is an international Grand Prix competitor and a motivational and inspiring trainer of riders of all levels.

Hannah has worked with many well respected international trainers including Conrad Schumacher, Emile Faurie and is now training with Carl Hester. She trains her own horses from a very young age, and has many Young Horse, Regional and National championship titles. Hannah has competed at Olympia CDI-W, Amsterdam CDI-W, Aachen CDIO5*, Rotterdam CDIO 5*, Hagen CDIO 5*, Weisbaden CDI4*. She was also shortlisted to represent Great Britain at the London 2012 Olympics.

Hannah has been a member of the World Class Podium Potential Squad since 2010. This program selects and supports talented riders that have the ability to deliver medal winning performances for Great Britain.

As a coach Hannah takes into consideration all 4 components of performance; physical, technical, tactical and mental.

Hannah has a positive approach and uses simple, clear and concise techniques to improve the basics and way of going, whilst keeping focus on the fun and enjoyment in the training. Treating every partnership individually, she encourages riders to make the most of their horse's potential and produce a horse that is more pleasing to ride and athletic in the body.

Hannah's pupils have won at National Championship level, have been invited to compete abroad and selected on to the AASE and BEF Excel Talent programmes.
